Augusta Savage

'Delighted' With Idea For Local Exhibit

Augusta Savage, internationally known sculptor who has amazed and delighted art-lovers with her inspired work, and who has immortalized James Weldon Johnson's National Negro anthem with the massive clay phenomenon, "Lift Every Voice and Sing," (on exhibit at the New York World's Fair) was in Indianapolis last week-end, the guest of Mrs. Harriett C. Kelley, 1401 South State street, principal of School No. 63. Miss Savage was accompanied by Mrs. Grace Outlaw.

Miss Savage, a charming personality, granted an interview to RECORDER reporters and photographers Friday afternoon at the Kelley residence during which the noted sculptor pleasantly declared: "I don't like to talk, so you'll just have to ask me questions."

Miss Savage, who has won citations at Salon d'Automne and Salon Printemps at Grand Palace, Paris, has also exhibited at the Art Anderson galleries, the Architectural League and Argent Galleries in New York, and has a permanent exhibit at the Harlem branch of the New York public library. She maintains a studio, with statuary of her own designing, at 143 West 125th street, in New York. Her work has been endowed by the Carnegie Corporation and Rockefeller Foundations. Her most notable sculpture group was the commissioned work for the New York World's Fair which is on exhibit in front of the Contemporary Arts Building, Rainbow Avenue, World's Fair.

In 1922 to 1924, Miss Savage received her first formal instruction on a Cooper Union scholarship, following which she studied with Herman McNeil. In 1925 she was granted a scholarship to the Royal Academy of Fine Arts at Rome, Italy.

Winning the Julius Rosenwald Fellowship in 1929, Miss Savage studied for three years at Paris. In January, 1935, she was elected to the Exclusive National Association of Women Painters and Sculptors.

A native of Green Cove Springs, Florida, Miss Savage declared that she had always wanted to "form figures out of clay."

"When I was a child," she said, smiling reminiscently, "I never made mud pies. I was always trying to make little mud figures and heads."

She first left her home in 1921 when she went to New York with only four dollars and sixty cents and "a burning desire to become a sculptor in six months." At present, Miss Savage revealed that she was working on "two small commissions" about which she appeared a bit reluctant to talk. Most eloquent, however, was Miss Savage on the subject of a pet idea which will be ready for disclosure in a few months, she said.

Mr. Lane said, with a view toward filling the local factory need for skilled mechanics.

Observing that the enrollment steadily grows larger, Mr. Lane advises all interested and qualified persons that date for the ending of these classes has been set for July 19.

Asked if she had discovered any exceptional talent during her years as teacher, Miss Savage declared "Oh, I should say!" Most promising of them all were Selma Burk and William Artis.

Miss Savage also became enthusiastic in her discussion of a blind woman, Olivia Caldwell, who had never had the use of her eyes and yet did beautiful work of blind persons, perfect in detail.

In 1934 Miss Savage's classes formed the nucleus of a WPA art school. She does not expect to teach again soon, she said.

During the interview, the possibility of an exhibit here of the renowned sculptor's work was discussed.

Air Training Refused Youth

A local young man of good reputation applied recently at the Aeronautics recruiting station in Rantoul, Ill., headquarters, Chanute Field for enrollment; was informed (in substance) by W. H. Gist, Jr., First Lieutenant, Air Corps, of the Recruiting Office, that "there are limited housing facilities in Rantoul for colored men", and that "insufficient inquiries from the colored populace may be cited as the reason for these existing conditions."

CONFESSES AVE. STABBING; VICTIM FAIR

Raymond Borah, 26, 1214 Muskingum street, confessed Tuesday before detectives of the Homicide Division to the stabbing of William Hayes, 26, 2030 Highland place, during an altercation Sunday morning at an Avenue Tavern.

Borah told detectives he and Hayes had been having "differences" for a long time, although he refused to disclose what their arguments were about.

Hayes was stabbed in the lower right chest. He was taken to City hospital by "Kid" Lewis, 38, 918 Indiana avenue, apartment 7, who related to officers that he saw Hayes and "some fellow" get into an argument and later saw the fellow stab Hayes and run. Detectives seized Borah on the description furnished by Hayes and Lewis the following day.

Hayes remains at City hospital in a fairly good condition, hospital officials say. Preliminary hearing of the case will be held July 9 in Municipal court, room 4.

Sunday morning, near 12:15 o'clock, William Flanders, 21, white, reported that he was cut on the hands and fingers by an unknown assailant during an argument in front of a near Northside tavern.

In the same tavern, two hours later, Wilbert Hall, 25, 772 West Twenty-fifth street, told officers Davenport and Jones that he got into an argument with a man known to him only as "Georgia Roy", who stabbed him in the back and the right side during the altercation.

Miss Geneva Carpenter, 35, 2065 Columbia avenue, was arrested on a charge of violating the 1935 firearms acts Saturday evening when she was in an eastside tavern threatening to kill some one with a gun. Police who arrested Miss Carpenter declare that the gun she was carrying contained three leaded shells.

In an Avenue Tavern Saturday night Detective Ferdinand Holt arrested Ralph Wilson, 40, 536 North California, who refused to explain a cut on his right arm. Detective Holt said Wilson was carrying a large knife. Treated at City hospital for the wound, Wilson was charged with drunk, vagrancy and carrying concealed weapons.

3 SEEK WILLKIE CAMPAIGN POST

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—(AP)—Before the Republican convention was officially closed, there were three candidates in the field for the position of director of the Negro division of the Willkie-McNary campaign, according to best informed circles close to the party's leaders.

All the way from Chicago came former Congressman Oscar De Priest who, added and abetted by Roscoe, Conklin Simmons and an entourage of others, was reputed seeking the ear of the leaders in an effort to solidify his position with the party and gain the recognition necessary for the appointment.

Then, there was Robert Vann, of Pittsburgh, publisher of the Courier who many declared they saw in Philadelphia visiting the Willkie headquarters frequently with apparently the same idea in mind. Mr. Vann is remembered as having been prominently identified with the Republican party in the past, but more recently an appointee of the Democrats because of the service he had rendered Mr. Roosevelt. When he and Mr. Roosevelt fell out, it is reported that he then turned his attentions once again to the Republican party.

The third avowed candidate is reported to be Perry W. Howard, front man for the defeated candidate, Senator Taft. Mr. Howard was busy during the convention, as he had been prior to that meeting, but this time he was busy trying to hold his own forces in line and to defend his right to the office of national committeeman from Mississippi.

and arm bruises sustained at 6:45 last Monday night when he was struck while crossing Washington street at Twenty-second avenue by a car driven by William Slepcevic, 21, white, 1100 Maryland. Slepcevic claimed his view of Gillmore was obscured by a parked truck.

PHILADELPHIA, July 5.—Promising in a pre-convention conference with colored delegates "that he would work for the abolition of all discrimination in employment, the franchise and civil liberties", Wendell L. Willkie, Republican presidential nominee, made a strong and open bid for the support of colored voters throughout the nation.

The sum of approval which has swept the country since the pronouncement gives indication of the sentiment created. Such a statement at this time especially—when colored persons are refused opportunity of serving in army, navy, aviation, industrial expansion and other avenues being opened or extended because of the war and the defense programs—hits thoughts which are important and loom large on the minds of fifteen million persons.

"There is no reason why Negroes should be denied employment by utilities," Mr. Willkie said when questioned about the policy of utility companies to discriminate against colored persons. "We have a great number of them working for Commonwealth and Southern. I don't know exactly how many and what categories, but I know we have a great many." (Mr. Willkie is a highly successful utilities magnate, and his statement is very significant.)

Taking further stand in matters of vital importance to colored persons, namely the air, army, navy, and the defense programs—Mr. Willkie said: "I'm against all that kind of bunk. You are citizens like everybody else. If I am elected president, I will seek to remove all kinds of discrimination from all groups."

"Look at my record," the utilities magnate challenged. "I fought the Ku Klux Klan in Ohio in 1924 when all the judges were Klansmen. I have stood up for civil liberties for all minorities at times when I was a—d—d unpopular."

"I want your support. I need it. But irrespective of whether Negroes go down the line for me, they can expect every consideration. They will get their fair share of appointments, their fair proportion in policy-making bodies. They'll get the same consideration as other citizens."

1 Dead, 6 Wounded As Brawls In 4 Taverns Worry Police

Three near northside taverns and one eastside tavern figured in bloody gun and knife brawls here during last week-end. One person is dead and at least six more wounded when jealousies and differences of long-standing ran rampant and police worked overtime to restore a semblance of peace among unruly groups.

Car 31, Officers Davenport and Jones assisted detectives early Sunday morning in the search for an unidentified man who fatally slashed one person and wounded three others in a fracas at an Avenue Tavern.

The alleged slasher, still at large, is described as being about thirty-five years, having wide, round shoulders, two upper gold teeth and high cheekbones.

Officers called to the tavern found Mrs. Minnie Holk, 42, 1118 Maple street, lying in front of the place on the sidewalk with a slashed left arm almost severed at the shoulder. Beside her lay Ben Franklin, 50, her alleged common-law husband, who suffered cuts on the body, and beside him lay Nibbs Galbin, 39, Mexican, with a cut left arm, left leg and thigh. Mrs. Mayme Spear Galbin, the Mexican's wife, was also cut on the right arm.

Mrs. Holk died in City hospital a short time later, it was revealed. Franklin, Galbin and Mrs. Galbin were treated for their cuts and held for further questioning. All three stoutly denied knowing who their assailant had been or what the disturbance had been about, detectives say.

An eye-witness to the bloody affair, Gardful Hendrix, 28, 537 Vermont street, supplied the descriptive details of the man who fled after the knife-battle. Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Holk will be held Friday, July 5 at 1 p.m. in the chapel of the King and King mortuary. Mrs. Holk was a native of Evansville, Ind. Burial will be in Woodhaven cemetery.

CORONER FREES WOMAN, 'KILLING JUSTIFIABLE'

Following an inquest conducted by the coroner, during which five witnesses testified in behalf of the accused Miss Edna May Esby, 26, 453 West Thirteenth street, was freed when authorities returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide" in connection with the fatal shooting Friday June 14 of Marshall Jones, 24, who, according to testimony, had been overbearing and had chased the woman into a near northside funeral home with a knife. Miss Esby, released Saturday, was represented by Attorney Henry J. Richardson, Jr.

According to witnesses, the woman had sought protection several times, appealing to police and to the prosecutor. She is said to have been washing in the back yard when Mr. Jones threatened her, saying that he would knock her down and stamp out her teeth. She was struck, according to information, and shot the man after he had forced his way into the house after she fled from him.

CITY TEACHER VISITED BY CHINESE PRIN.

Upper section was the scene of a happy occasion here last Thursday afternoon between Miss Martha Horner, 1847 Bellefontaine, and Miss Alice Pearl Fong, assistant principal of the Commodore Stockton school, San Francisco, Cal. Miss Fong stopped in Indianapolis as the guest of Miss Horner, en route to the World's Fair. A native of Ballejo, Cal., Miss Fong is of Cantonese ancestry. One of a large family which resides at San Francisco, she is well-known throughout the state as a lecturer.

Miss Fong generously granted an audience to RECORDER reporters and photographers at the station on her initial visit to the city. Asked if she had ever been to China, the attractive Miss Fong declared that she had not, but had often wanted to go.

"I may go some day," she said. "With things as they are, who knows what one will do?"

Miss Fong attended the University of California where she received a master of arts degree and was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

Miss Horner was studying on a scholarship at the University of Hawaii when she met Miss Fong. A native of Kentucky, Miss Horner received a master of arts degree from Butler university.

MANY NOTABLES

ported and photographed the proceedings of the Convention.

Dr. Emmett J. Scott, Assistant to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Director of Publicity, and Consultant on Negro Affairs, to Chairman John Hamilton, sat during the whole of the session on the convention Platform as assistant to Samuel F. Pryor, Jr., Chairman of the Committee of Arrangements.

Mr. Pryor, only 42 years of age, was the Convention Manager for Wendell L. Willkie, the nominee of the Convention for President of the United States.

Colored representatives appeared before the Committee on Platform and Resolutions, and in the most dignified and yet persistent way urged the inclusion of a plank that should be affirmative and in no way expressed in generalities. If colored voters are to be asked to return to the Grand Old Party.

Their efforts were rewarded with the most satisfactory and inclusive expression which has appeared in a Republican Platform for 30 years. This plank follows:

The Negro

"We pledge that our American citizens of Negro descent shall be given a Square Deal in the economic and political life of this nation.

"Discrimination in the Civil Service, the Army, Navy, and all other branches of the Government must cease.

"To enjoy the full benefits of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness universal suffrage must be made effective for the Negro citizen.

"Mob violence shocks the conscience of the nation and legislation to curb this evil must be enacted."

Other planks of direct interest and concern to colored citizens are the following:

Reemployment

"The New Deal's failure to solve the problem of unemployment and revive opportunity for our youth presents a major challenge to representative government and free enterprise. We propose to create opportunity for the youth of America and put our idle millions back to work in private industry, business and agriculture. We propose to eliminate needless administrative restrictions, thus restoring lost motion to the wheels of individual enterprise."

Relief

"We shall remove waste, discrimination, and politics from relief—through administration by the States with Federal grants-in-aid on a fair and non-political basis, thus giving the man and woman on relief a larger share of the funds appropriated."

Social Security

"We favor the extension of necessary old-age benefits on an earmarked pay-as-you-go basis to the extent that the revenues raised for this purpose will permit. For such group as may thus be covered we favor a system of unemployment compensation with experience rating positions, aimed at protecting the worker in regularity of his employment and providing adequate compensation for reasonable periods when that regularity of employment is interrupted. The administration should be left with the States with a minimum of Federal control."

Among the thousands of telegrams received by the nominee were hundreds from all parts of the country from colored political organizations and prominent men and women of the race pledging their support in the aggressive crusade for the restoration of sanity in government, and for the preservation of freedom in America.

Accredited delegates and alternates seated were: S. A. Jones, Arkansas; J. Leonard Lewis, Florida; Sam B. Solomon, Ben J. Davis, Georgia; F. C. Gassett, Clarence S. Wigfall, William E. King, Illinois; George R. Tipper, G. W. Saffell, Kentucky; James Lewis, Jr., Louisiana; Dr. J. H. Lowery, Dr. J. A. Hardin, Dr. J. Leslie Jones, Maryland; Chas. A. Roxborough, Michigan; Perry W. Payne, Ohio; Louis Lorenzo H. King, New Perry Brooks Jackson, J. Harvey Battis, Pennsylvania; Robert R. Church, Tennessee; J. Franklin Wilson, District of Columbia; J. M. A. INDUSTRIAL TEACHERS MEET AT PURDUE U.

(By Special Writer)

The Coordinators of the City Schools of Indiana held their annual two weeks' intensive training conference at Purdue university June 17 to 28, for the purpose of pooling experiences and outlining ways of making their work more effective. Marimon Hansbrey, Attorneys shop department head, was among those attending.

The conference is sponsored by Purdue university under the able leadership of Proff Russell J. Greenly, chairman of trade and industrial education.

Many professors of their institutions of the state and nation, and many managers of large industrial organizations were invited to discuss problems with the Coordinators.

The most important topic for this year's conference was "What is the Emergency and how to prepare for it," so far as it affects the Coordinator.

The following topics were discussed:

- Lack of skilled workers; Obtaining teachers; Obtaining cooperation of outside teachers; Facilities; Content for teaching; Selection of trainees.
 - Organization of the program; (a) federal, (b) state, (c) local.

- There were many interesting talks from the different visitors but the talk by Dr. Quinn of Notre Dame was one that seemed to interest the group very much. One of the interesting points that he brought out is worth mention here for future consideration in this rapidly changing age. Dr. Quinn reported in part some figures that came from a survey taken of our state prison. The report revealed that of the entire prison enrollment more than 1700 had no training before entering the prison and that very few with trade training before entering the prison were there.
- This showed, Dr. Quinn believes, that usually men who have a trade, do not go to prison. They have something that they can do. His report also showed that many of the men who began trade training in the prison had never been given an opportunity to take training before entering the prison.
- It seems a pity that, with the fine schools and equipment we have today, men with ability have to go to prison to learn a trade, and find a place in life for themselves. There must be some poor guidance some place.
- We should try to improve this much-needed situation in our present-day civilization.

A Declaration of INDEPENDENCE

JULY 4th... a symbol of FREEDOM. On this day, during this and every year, we commemorate the adoption of the Declaration of Independence. As a free-thinking people in a nation of democracy, this day is especially heralded with an outward burst of enthusiastic exuberance and an inward feeling of well-being and peace.

JUST as the sagacious foresight of the men who created the foundation upon which now rests the bulwark of our independence and freedom... so will the Final Rites of you and your loved ones depend upon your wise foresight and systematic planning.

TRIBUTE PAID EMMA HUGHES, BURIED HERE

Friends and relatives paid tribute to Mrs. Emma Hughes in last rites held Saturday afternoon at the C. M. C. Willis and Son mortuary chapel. Father Louis Johnson officiated.

A former resident of Kentucky, Mrs. Hughes had lived here many years and was well known and loved throughout the city, particularly on the east and west sides of town. A keen but sympathetic judge of human nature, hundreds of persons throughout her long residence here told her their troubles and many were given her advice and material aid.

In recent years, she had come to be regarded as the unofficial community counselor and her many acts of helpfulness in some instances were willing and knowing charity. Everybody knew Mrs. Hughes and she was often stopped for a chat, a word of advice or opinion when she walked in the streets; her influence was surprisingly great for one who had not sought it. Her judgment was sound and the result of clear thinking.

Music was supplied by Mrs. Elsie Garrett, soloist, and Miss Mable Loving, organist. Survivors are a son, Wardell; several sisters, Mrs. Belle Buchanan of this city, Mrs. Cumi Cornelius of Wheatcroft, Ky., and another at Chicago; a brother, Tony Hughes; a niece, Miss Madie Crawley, a nephew, George Wall; Mrs. Minnie May Wilson of Providence, Ky., and other relatives.

Among the out-of-town visitors attending the funeral were Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Cornelius, Mattie G. Cephas, Will H. Cephas, Brownetta Smith and Wanda Lee Cornelius. Burial was at Floral park cemetery.

Immediately at the end of her class work she went to work at St. Barnabas' Mission, Jenkins-ville, S. CITE JEALOUSY IN SLAYING

Jealousy over the attentions of a woman was cited as the cause of an argument in which one man was killed and another held in Marion County jail under a $5,000 bond.

In statements made to detectives of the homicide division at police headquarters, Arthur Carroll, 22, 1054 Holborn street, confessed to the shooting of Calvin Vaughter, 48, 1041 Holborn street, at Hawthatha and West Michigan streets. Vaughter died two hours later in the receiving room at City hospital.

Miss Lucinda "Lovelace," 21, 929 1-2 West Michigan street, told police she was talking to Carroll when Vaughter approached and engaged in an argument. Carroll brought to headquarters by his brothers after a search had been started for him, said he shot Vaughter when the latter drew a knife on him during the argument. Miss Lovelace was a former sweetheart of Vaughter, it was said, and was at the time "going" with Carroll to which Vaughter objected.

Funeral arrangements for Vaughter await word from Tennessee where survivors are said to reside. The body lies in state at the Jacobs Bos, westside funeral home at this writing.

REPUBLICAN PARTY SPEAKS FEARLESSLY ON RACE QUESTION AND PROBLEMS IN COUNTRY

PHILADELPHIA, July 5. (By A. E. White for ANP)—The Republican party spoke out determinedly Wednesday and without biting its tongue, said of the Negro question and problem in this country:

"We pledge that our American citizens of Negro descent shall be given a square deal in the economic and political life of this nation. Discrimination in the civil service, the army, navy and all other branches of the government must cease. To enjoy the full benefits of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness universal suffrage must be made effective for the Negro citizen. Mob violence shocks the conscience of the nation and legislation to curb this evil should be enacted."

Credit is due to the courageous and persistent group of members met at the home of Miss Quena Chastine.

The Wide Awake club met Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Nellie Allen.

Mrs. Juanita Shantette entertained the following guests Friday afternoon: Mesdames Gladys Hull, Katherine Craig, Margaret Fox, Gaddie Harris. The afternoon was spent in playing monopoly.

The Mt. Zion Baptist Missionary met at the home of Mamma Greer Thursday. * Mrs. Lawrence Fox and children were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Isom Thursday.

Miss Virginia Isom gave a party in honor of her sister Mrs. Lawrence Fox, Friday. Guests were: Mesdames Gladys Bailey, Katherine Craig, Auga and Albertina Poston, Jennie Goodson, Margaret Alexander, Eva Vest, Margaret Gibson, Isabelle Craig Isabelle Collins, and Tillie Evans. The evening was spent in playing bridge.

Lawrence Fox joined his wife Saturday.

who were on the program committee of the Republican policy forming group who insisted that the platform which would guarantee the Negro the consideration due him.

Under this program, the evils of the photograph in civil service and the evasive manner in which Negroes are treated once they are sent out on civil service jobs will be eliminated; the failure of the war department to observe the mandates of congress (such as has been done in the aviation bills passed in congress and ignored by the brass hats of the war department) will cease; the navy department will have on its hands the task of enlisting Negroes in all branches of that service and the marine corps will be forced to break down its long standing bar to Negroes. Lily-white southern Republicans will have to accept Negroes in the party and the much debated and kicked around anti-lynch bill will receive the consideration which it is due.

Other salient points in the plan had to do with the relief administration, which has done so much discrimination against Negroes and has kept them in a state of economic insecurity and on a governmental subsidized dole. Increased security for the aged and a real chance and for a real job for those in early life who have been forgotten are also held out to youth as the salvation of the country.

One of the first planks ever devised by the party was offered in a dramatic session which began at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and ran until after eleven.

Assembled before 2 o'clock according to the program, the convention adjourned within a half hour since the resolutions committee was not ready.

Immediately after the reading of the plank Congressman Hamilton Fish and Senator Henry Cabot Lodge addressed the body, agreeing in whole with the sentiments expressed.

PLAN 'BIGGEST' CELEBRATION AT EVANSVILLE

EVANSVILLE, July 5.—A gigantic three-day Appreciation Festival, set for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 19, 20 and 21, will be the biggest event in the history of the colored citizenry of Evansville, according to headquarters of the planning committee, composed of Dr. A. H. Wilson of the American Legion, C. L. Fields of the City Recreation Department and J. Wendell Holder of the local weekly newspaper. This group will be aided by a Kentucky group from Paducah, members of the Illinois Central Booster Club, which is sponsoring an excursion from Paducah to the celebration.

The three-day celebration, which will be held at the Lincoln Stadium, Auditorium, Mesker Park and Zoo and the Governor's street playground, will provide entertainment for the general public and information as the work being done by the members of the Works Progress Administration, City Recreation department, Manual Arts Classes, and the Negro press.

An official "Shoppers Day" will mark the opening of the celebration, which will be followed by a bike riding exhibition given by Joe Wilson, one of the best trick riders in the middle-west, and a bike contest and skate race.

A carnival and movie at the Lincoln stadium will climax Saturday's activities. Sunday, a visit to Mesker Park will be followed by a softball game at Lincoln stadium. There will also be a second-anniversary celebration of the Evansville Argus, for which a special issue of the weekly will be printed. J. Wendell Holder is managing editor of this paper which is southern Indiana's only colored newspaper. A special radio broadcast will be sponsored during the celebration of this anniversary. Misses Mary Ferguson and Lorraine Hathaway are co-chairmen of a contest in which a queen to reign over the three-day festival will be selected.

BRITON WRITES OF HYPOCRISY, SLOTHFULNESS

We, who are about to die, salute thee, Son! Those marching off to war and saluting Caesar two thousand years ago, never spoke more bravely or as effectively as the English gentleman speaks in the following letter to her African God-son. Miss Sylvia Pankhurst sends me this letter printed in her "New Times" of June 1, 1940. It is so poignant that I hand it on to you through the Associated Negro Press.

"My dear little godson, Onayemi Onabolu, many of us in England are about to die, and I want you to know that we shall die nobly. You can be proud of your English godmother, proud of being a part of the British Empire."

"In spite of all our faults, when we were put to the test we pulled together. Rich and poor, die-hard and progressive, we forgot our differences, our personal and party ambitions and injuries, and with out hesitation, we gave our lives and our property in defence of the plain, simple goodness—that goodness which leads men to feed the hungry, clothe the naked and succor them that have no helper."

"As I write these words I see again the kind face of your father, a student in an English art school, a shining example of a high-minded gentleman; knowing how to deal with the Nazi-natured lout amongst his fellow-students; when to give him forbearance, and when the well-aimed blow!"

"My boy you have got to learn from the successes and the failures of your elders to do better. A Nazi-ridden world will need a lot of re-educating, and Africa must take a hand. I am sending you Shakespeare and Dickens to help you with the job. They are particularly English, but appeal to the whole world, and are best-sellers today in Stalin's Russia. Don't forget that!"

"Dickens teaches us to respect everybody, of whatever race or class or creed, to honour and rejoice in the unique individuality of each: man, woman or child."

"He makes us realize how blessed and happy life can be for ordinary people wherever they are given a chance."

"He tried to teach us too to recognize a scoundrel when we see him and to make no terms with such an one. He was very strong on that last point."

"If we had learned lessons Dickens tried to teach, we should have stopped these international gangsters at their start. It would have been 'Hands off Manchuria' and 'Hands off Abyssinia.' We did try to stop them but not hard enough. In the end we gave up trying, and let them murder the Chinese and the Ethiopians. That is why today they are murdering us."

BEAUTY HINTS

Below the line that runs from the tip of the ear is the danger line for rouge if you are past twenty five. The higher the rouge the younger you appear. So if you would deceive the men and confound your women friends as to the number of summers you have seen, be careful that you never allow your cheeks to be colored below this danger line. There is no woman who does not yearn to appear both young and beautiful—this is one of the ways to bring this wish about.

By William K. Spears

The most important musical event in Indianapolis this year was the amazing performance of eight-year old Phillipa Schuyler last Sunday at Keith's Theatre. Many prodigies have been heard, who have been well received by most exacting audiences in the East, but none exhibited talent, as remarkable as that of Phillipa. Here, beyond all possible doubts, is genuine.

Her phenomenal memory and technical accomplishment alone mark her as more than a prodigy. That is all that most prodigies have. But Phillipa has more. She has temperance. How expressive is she played her Schumann! Already she is an artist. It is safe to say, unreservedly, that some day she will be a great artist.

While in Indianapolis the Schuylers stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Spears, my grand parents, and it was my happy experience to have a brief acquaintance with her in an every day atmosphere. Phillipa is sensitive and irritable. By irritability I do not mean ill-humor, I mean that quick, sharp responsiveness to stimuli which is an indispensable attribute of all who become great artists. Yet Phillipa is the gayest, most frolicsome child imaginable.

She has a mind all her own. During the practice hour, she played her most recent composition, written for her mother's birthday. Her mother, who coaches her ably, asked her to play the last few bars more softly. She thought it much better. But Phillipa responded promptly, "I don't." It is this spirit of independence which must account for the startling originality of her compositions. If she were a boy, one could not help but think, "Surely Mozart has been born again." Since meeting and hearing Phillipa, I earnestly believe that this century need not feel that it lacks a Mozart or a Chopin. Our generation will have Phillipa Schuyler.

Phillipa will not play any concert two years. However, she will be featured on the "Stars of Tomorrow" program, over N.B.C. television, July 12.

During the course of the recital, little Miss Barbara Toles presented Phillipa with a bouquet of flowers from the Progressive Series of Music. She was assisted by the little Misses Trilla Stewart and Patricia Harris.

KOKOMO WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY

KOKOMO, July 5.—Stricken suddenly about 11 pm., Wednesday, with apoplexy, Mrs. Fay A. (Winburn) Bassett, 45, widely known local resident, died at 9:30 Thursday morning without regaining consciousness. She died at her home, 1007 North Lafontaine street.

Mrs. Bassett was the wife of Otto Bassett, who has been connected with the Turner department store as deliveryman for a number of years.

Mrs. Bassett had attended the funeral of a relative Wednesday at Arcadia, and on returning home early in the evening, had done her usual chores about the house. No indication of her approaching death was given until she became ill about 10:00 o'clock.

Born at Kokomo June 1, 1895, Mrs. Bassett was the daughter of Walter and Jennie (Burnett) Winburn. She attended the Kokomo public schools. She and Mr.

Bassett were married July 21, 1915. They had no children.

Surviving are the widower and father, a sister, Mrs. Iva Mallory, all of whom make their home at 1007 North Laramontaine street. A brother, Merrill Winburn, resides at Cicero, and a niece, Miss Virginia May Mallory, who is a nurse at a Kansas City, Mo., hospital, and a nephew, Billy Winburn of Kokomo, also survive.

Mrs. Bassett had been a member of the Wayman AME church since she was a girl, and at the time of her death was president of the Idle Hour club of the church.

Names in Books

"They've got their names in books."

That's what John Kirby proudly says about the men who help him make music on his "Flow Gently Sweet Rhythm" program over Columbia network Sundays.

Books on jazz, Kirby means, and no wonder, since each is a "top man" in his class. Together they comprise what is generally accepted as the most versital and musicianly perfect small band known.

With Kirby at the bass fiddle, here's the line-up: O'Neal Spencer beats the drums; Buster Bailey, at the clarinet; Charlie Shavers, trumpet; Russell Procope, saxophone, and Billie Kyle (who does amazing things on the piano).

Shore Can Sing Blues

W. C. Handy, composed of the immortal "St. Louis Blues," "Memphis Blues" and others, gave raven-haired Dinah Shore the most thrilling compliment of her career during the recent Chamber Music Society of Lower Basin Street all-Handy concert. The lovely singer, a native of Tennessee, sang "Memphis Blues," and when she finished Handy went to her side and said: "My dear, 'Memphis Blues' was never really sung before this afternoon." He ordered

"Refreshment Time" Is Coca-Cola Time

Singin' Sam says it's the same with music as everything else. A new song has to be good to catch on. And to illustrate his point, he has selected two popular new hits—"I Can't Love You Any More" and "Sierra Sue"—for this week's programs of "Refreshment Time," along with older songs that have caught on and stayed on. Sam's complete programs for the week are:

Monday, July 8:—"You Gorgeous Dancin' Doll," "I Can't Love You Any More," "What's the Use of Dreaming," and "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep."
Tuesday, July 9:—"I'm an Old Cow Hand," "The Moon Looks Glad Tonight," "By the Sycamore Tree," and "My Romance."

Wednesday, July 10:—"Linger a While," "When the White Azaless Start Blooming," "In the Evening By the Moonlight," and "The Good Green Acres of Home."

Thursday, July 11:—"Is It True What They Say About Dixie," "Sierra Sue," "So Long Mary," and "When I Dream of Old Erin."
Friday, July 12:—"Goody Goody," "Her Name Was Rosita," "Alice Blue Gown," and "After Sundown."

"Refreshment Time with Singin' Sam" is presented daily, Mondays through Fridays, over Station WIRE at 11:00 A. M. o'clock, through the courtesy of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

JOYCE VENABLE

Well Citizens: what Paul Weeden has to say about this column is so rotten that it would even get in an ant's pants.

Also, when I saw him down at St. Rita's hall last Friday night, he made a very jolly remark concerning how surprised he was coming back to "The Nap" and finding yours truly in such a healthy condition etc., insinuating that she should have been laid up long ago for making unhealthy wise-cracks on some who weren't so apt to get the joke.

He also commented that instead of growing taller she seems to be shrinking smaller and smaller... and within the course of two or three years, she'd more than likely look like the miniatures of Dr. Cyclops.

Well, I ignored that remark on account of about that time, one of the Y. P. C. members jumps up with a big pugilistic looking chap and starts rattling off a gob of introduction.

I can't make heads nor tails of what he's talking about, so after he gets through beeping the gun, I ask the chap what his name is and where he is from.

His name turns out to be Henry Williams and sure enough, he is a heavyweight boxer from the "Apple" who has been in "The Nap" for two weeks and who intends to stay about the vicinity of Senate Avenue for two more weeks before returning to Boogie town.

Well about that time the vici starts playing "Boogie" and you know how the "jits" at the "Rit" go wild when the Boogie plays—especially such jits as Martha Brown, Thomas Hayes, Clem Randolph, Ella Sweet, Mary Wilson, Albert Miller, Richard Moore, Pearl Langle and "Rags" of the westside S. P. B's.

Had there been a carpet on the floor, it would have been torn in to shreds.

The next morning when I saw a certain young lady promenading Martindale avenue, she said as follows: "Joyce, do you know that kat from Boogie town?—He acts different—He dances different—He lives different from these local squares... I'm for him!"

What new drug store cowboy is so anxious to get to work on time that he parks across the street at 7:30 and holds curb stone conversations with other early morning dudes until 8 o'clock, opening time? ... Yes, you guessed right... It's Otis Barnett.

With whom was Forrest Thompson deeply conversing last Monday on the Walker corner???

Have you been to Mack's Shack? ... It's not so high-class, but as the saying goes... It can't be beat. It's between Martindale and Columbia on Twenty-third street.

Mack really has the place looking swell. He has a penny vici and on the vici are such pieces as Whispering Grass, Please Don't Leave Me Now, and The Boogie Woogie and The St. Louis Blues.

By the way... What notable member and founder of the Leagues Association was dishonorably discharged on account of taking the job as head shoe-shine boy at Mack Martin's shack? ... Could it have been George "Swish" Clusby?

F-L-A-S-H-!!

Henry H. Roach stays at Locust field more than he stays at the pool, these days. What's the matter with him? ... ask "the grass"

Don't look now, but Elwood Black is packing his bag. He's going to take a trip to the City of Winds and after that, he's going to shift south to see if it's true what they say about Dixie.

Well, aside from the fact that the South of the Border boys have been playing some mighty exciting ball games at the park, there's nothing left to say except that Tishie Bell Anderson maintains that she cannot say anything good about someone whom she doesn't like on account of it being exceedingly difficult to find anything good about them to say... so there—!

song by that name has made the railroad crossing famous, will head a parade and preside at a barbecue in a park adjacent to Tuxedo Junction.

That same night the band will play for a race dance at the Birmingham Municipal Auditorium, with 5,000 or more expected.

REFUSE TO FIGHT UNLESS ARMY UNITS ACCEPT RACE ON BASIS AS OTHERS, DETROIT MAN URGES

DETROIT, July 5. (ANP)—"Unless the war department and the Michigan National Guard officials accept the Negroes in the various branches of the military service so that they may be trained as other American citizens in the event this country goes to war, I think the Negro should refuse to fight," says Senator Charles C. Diggs in speeches last week at St. Johns C. M. E. church, St. Peter's A. M. E. Zion church and Mt. Calvary Baptist church.

"It is high time the Negro wakes up and tells America in no uncertain terms that we are not going to be targets in a scientific conflict without knowing something about the science of war," Diggs continued.

"In the World war we not only suffered from the lack of training but for the most part new and poorly trained white officers were put in command of Negro troops in France, with very unsatisfactory results."

Before leaving for Washington, where he will join the fight being carried on for Negro participation in all branches of the national defense, Diggs addressed the following letter to the war department.

"As a member of the Michigan legislature and, as such, together with the other state officials responsible for the welfare and protection of our state which is jointly responsible with other states for the welfare and defense of the nation, I am requesting a clear cut expression of the attitude of the war department concerning Negro participation in the various branches of the national defense."

"(1) Why are Negroes refused acceptance in the various recruiting stations (a) army, (b) aviation, (c) anti-air craft.

"(2) Why are Negroes refused acceptance in the national guard of Michigan notwithstanding (a) that the act of congress of 1922 provides for an engineer's battalion of Negroes for Michigan, (b) that as complete equipment for an engineer's battalion is in storage and not being used in Detroit, (c) that the Michigan senate authorized a Negro National guard unit by resolution at its 1935 session, (d) that the Michigan legislature appropriated $10,000 at its 1935 session for the purpose of carrying out of this authorization, (e) that Detroit's border city and an industrial center, needs and desires such an unit of national guard, (f) that both the white and Negro press has expressed in their columns in favor of a Negro unit, as well as the people of both races in Michigan, (g) that Gov. Dickinson of Michigan has expressed himself in favor of a Negro unit, (h) that Sen. Prentiss Brown of Michigan expressed also in favor of this unit, (i) that the Democratic party put into its party platform at their recent Michigan convention in Flint, a proposal for a Negro National guard, (j) that there are scores of qualified Negro men waiting to join the unit as soon as it is authorized.

"Therefore, as a citizen and an official of Michigan I am demanding that a definite and clear statement be made to the people of Michigan why this National Guard unit, requested by a sovereign state, cannot be authorized. I would like to know further if one of the units of the anti-aircraft regiment now being proposed for Michigan cannot be composed of Negroes."

Pullman Official Lauds Porters at Bill Hearing

WASHINGTON, July 5. (ANP)—Midst all of the hue and cry raised over the Crosser bill for the elimination of porters in charge in Pullman cars, interesting is the testimony submitted to senate committee presided over by Sen. Sherman Minton, some of which is herewith submitted.

One M. B. Cunningham of Fort Worth, Texas, declared he thought it advisable to have conductors on Pullman cars because porters "do not like dead people, they are afraid of ghosts. I imagine that was what was the matter with him," referring to the refusal of a porter to come to the dressing room where a white woman had suddenly died.

Champ Carry of the Pullman company: "I think some men are probably more capable and dependable than others. The men we have selected in that group of porters in charge are selected because of their known character, ability and reliability. They are men who have been in the Pullman service a great many years. I think there are a great many other men who are not operating as porters in charge who would be qualified, but the ones so operating are certainly qualified, and the men of this group have an average service with the company of 22 years.

"They are not just strangers picked up and put in these positions. The company spends a great deal of time and effort and money in training all employees, and I want to make clear that porters who are in charge receive identically the same training and instructions that conductors receive. Our experience has shown that they are just as capable, and absorb and understand this training. It is also known that they do the job and put over the job as well as any other group can do.

"Now the conductors have from time to time placed a great deal of stress upon the obligations to their group to operate the ventilating system and to control the air-conditioning and heating systems. The fact of the matter is that the porter is responsible in the first place for that condition in his car, and therefore he is given identically the same training on that score that conductors receive. And in practice he has shown himself to be as capable of handling that part of the work.

"It has been our experience that train porters will cooperate with porters just as fully as with conductors.

"Yesterday I listened to testimony here by several Pullman conductors, and was rather startled by the attack that was made on the ability and character of porters. I believe it was a very unjust attack upon a body of men whose records will stand any investigation. We know the character and reliability of people are not matters of race or color; and we know that porters who are operating in charge particularly have a record that is second to none."

Said Miss Bessie D. Chandler, of the National Travelers' Aid Association: "I have spoken from my personal experience—that I have really the highest regard—and I usually make it my business to talk with porters; I enjoy them. They usually know a great deal about the country through which they are journeying. They are courageous and traveling, and I have a chance to know them, and I have always been very much impressed with their capabilities and their ability to handle people and not to go beyond the point at which you like them to go."

Recalled to the stand, Mr. Carry again tributed the porters in this fashion:

"There was quite a little emphasis laid on the fact that porters do not have very much desire to help with people who die. Now, I do not know what the significance of that statement was, but I have a good deal of sympathy with porters on that score, because I personally have as great an aversion to having anything to do with dead people as anyone could possibly have. So I do not apologize for the porters or for my own feelings on that score.

"But if the intention was to indicate or to illustrate that because of this attitude on the part of the porters, they were not courageous and brave men, that I say a position is attempted to be taken that is not sustained by the facts because the records are full of heroic action on the part of porters. By the way of illustration I might refer to the unfortunate wreck up at Little Falls, when Pullman cars' porters continued to help move passengers from cars after several of them had been seriously injured. They are courageous and brave and in saying that, of course, I am not saying that conductors are not courageous and brave, because the record of conductors is excellent on score.

"But, like character, bravery is not a matter of any one group, it is not a quality of any one group. The record for bravery of porters of heroism in time of need is excellent, I could and would be able to submit real evidence on that score."

Sen. Minton when informed of the attitude of the general public towards the bill, which he presented in the senate, withdrew it after learning that the proposal had met the condemnation of right thinking people.

However, even before this was done, there was a general feeling that the Crosser bill as it was known, would not come before the present session of Congress.

PLAN WORKSHOP ON PROBLEMS IN TEACHER EDUCATION AT OSU; WILBERFORCE DEAN ADVISES

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 5. (ANP)—A workshop on the problems of teacher education in Ohio is to be held at Ohio State university this summer. Schools and colleges of the state are to participate with one Wilberforce educator on the advisory group.

A staff group representing forty schools is to formulate a program to be submitted to the larger advisory group which will devote three days of intensive study to the program formulated.

The purpose of the workshop will be to prepare a statement concerning the larger problems in teacher education and to formulate desirable policies for the solution of these problems in the teaching field in Ohio.

Dr. Gilbert H. Jones is an outstanding educator of extensive training and wide and varied experience. He was educated in America and Europe. He attended the Universities of Berlin, Leipzig, Goettingen and Halle, in Germany, and attended the Universities of Paris and Toulouse in France. He received his Ph. Pickens Says:--

NEGATIVE STATESMANSHIP

"I Hope Those White Folk Will Kill Each Other Off"

(By William Pickens)
It betrays a pitiable mentality when a Negro, sometimes an "intelligent" Negro, says that he is happy and hopeful, because those white folk are killing each other off. It is pitiable because he presumes that this war among whites, in which they will use 150 million blacks, and many brown men, will somehow help the blacks up, even though it pushes all the whites, in which they will use 150 negative way such a Negro expects to get up. Think of it.

The world is so tied together in all societal ways that when any large group of us goes down, all are down. If Europe should be ruined by war, by anything else, America would be ruined. And in a ruined America, what of the Negro race? Just suppose we could with the wave of the hand blot Europe and Asia out of existence, what a poor world would be left to us. Most of the world's people, who make the world as well off as it is, would be gone, and most of the tax-payers, burden bearers, workers, buyers and consumers and creators would be gone. Most of the good interest in living would go with them.

White people cannot be downed without a downing of the whole world. Black people could not be annihilated without ruining most of the world. If the 150 million or more of blacks in Africa are blotted out, many many people in Europe would starve to death or be reduced to abject poverty. And it would take Europe, and rest of the world, generations to get back to the place in world economy where we now are, if they could get back at all.

"I'm glad to see the white folk killing one another" is just about as sensible as was the hilarious cheer or some simple-minded colored people during the great Baltimore fire about 36 years ago; it was the white sections of the town that were burning, the great homes and great houses, and the "wealthy". The Negroes stood far away on their hill and looked at it, and thought: "How good is the Lord," and "He is punishing our enemies for us!" And when the great fire was over; hundreds of Negro workmen and thousands in Negro families were facing starvation FOR WANT OF A PLACE TO WORK. The same fire that consumed those great houses, burned up many of these Negroes' jobs.

War anywhere in the world today is the war of all of us. Every bit of destroyed property is a loss to us, or to our children. Every airplane bomb is blowing us to pieces. The whole world, almost, is as much tied together now in interest as were the Negro and white sections of the city of Baltimore in 1904. We are tied together by rails, shuttled together by ships and needed together by airplanes. Every day and every advance in the sciences of communication and transportation make it more so; and every calamity, every war will make us feel it.

These poor pitiable minds, some of them are not of colored Americans, and some of them are in our congress, who imagine that Europe's war and sufferings have no relation to our welfare and should not figure in our plans at all. What a rude awakening is just ahead for them, when the war is over, even if Hitler is beaten; but especially if Hitler should triumph. This is no "white man's war," this is a new world war. There are doubtless a million Negro fighters in it this minute, and hundreds of millions of blacks waiting upon its terrible decisions.

CHICAGO, July 5. (ANP)—An agreement covering the 717 red caps of the far-flung Pennsylvania railroad was signed last week between the company and the United Transport Service Employees of America. The agreement establishes maximum hours of service, seniority rights, grievance machinery and a basic wage of 39c an hour or $3.12 per day for red caps in New York City and 36c an hour or $2.88 per day for red caps in other cities along the system.

With an annual basic wage of approximately $900 in New York City and $830 at other points, the agreement adds over $65,000 to the annual payroll of the Pennsylvania railroad in behalf of red caps. With this agreement signed and in operation, the two largest employers of red caps in the United States are under contract with the United Transport Service Employees union, the other company being the New York Central railroad with 651 red caps. An agreement with this company was signed early in January of this year.

President Willard S. Townsend headed the negotiating committee for the union with the assistance of International Vice-president C. F. Thompson of Philadelphia, General Chairman Elmer F. Traynor of Pittsburgh, and the following district chairmen: Earl Adams of New York City, Harvey Kyle of Harrisburg, and Stephen Wright of Baltimore. Representing the company were the general managers of the four major regions and the vice-president in charge of personnel.

WENDELL WILLKIE IN ACTION

Wendell Willkie, the hustling Hoosier who grabbed the GOP presidential nomination in a whirlwind finish at Philadelphia recently, not only is a colorful character but his business record is one which merits him great respect. When it is considered that he came from relative obscurity, from the standpoint of presidential aspirations and consideration, to the pinnacle in a few weeks, it is readily seen that Willkie is both willing and able.

With the breeziness which sometimes characterizes the successful man who knows what he wants, how to get it. Willing Wendell Willkie appears more the man to give the opposition a great battle than the Republicans have had in recent years. Informal, democratic and politically sophisticated, Mr. Willkie appears perfectly willing to shed his coat and go up the campaign alley on any terms the situation demands.

Giving the impression of being easily adaptable to new things and unexpected turns, he seems rarely to check his stride as he flees goalward with the speed, deception, and effectiveness of a brilliant broken field runner. He has pledged, if elected, to turn some of his skill to integrating colored Americans more fully into government, army and navy, and other places, including private industry. That he has promised this when this present administration has been very slow in its effort along similar lines, has brought Mr. Willkie to colored citizens in a serious manner.

There are enough jobs to share with loyal Americans, people who are treated from the standpoint of justice and citizenship worse than the 3,500,000 aliens whose allegiance is being highly questioned by governmental officials since their discovery of Bund members, spies in strategic places and other UnAmerican activities. Since colored Americans help pay the preparedness and defense program costs, there is no reason short of vicious prejudice which says that they cannot share the expansion of industry and other benefits of proper service training in all its phases.

WHAT AMERICA NEEDS

The swiftly moving military and political events in Europe, and the fall of nation after nation before the victorious dictators, like pins in a bowling alley, have shocked the civilized world. The nations in the Western Hemisphere, particularly the United States and Canada, are fully aroused to the danger of the situation and are feverishly building up their national defenses.

After the conflict in Europe ends, the majority of European countries will be all but bankrupt and it is not unlikely that some of the stronger ones may look with greedy eyes toward the riches which abound in the countries of the Western Hemisphere. In fact, there are indications that their secret agents are already at work within our gates, preparing the way for ultimate attempts at invasion, as they did in the lands recently subjugated in Europe.

Yes, the United States needs strong naval and military defense, but we need

CRUISING 'ROUND

1. Women Ditched Old Guard Republicans.
2. Horse and Mule Team.
3. Do Not Insult Mr. Hitler.
4. Old-Timer Calls Roosevelt Miracle Man.
5. Elwood, Indiana.
6. War Getting Old.

SENATOR TAFT, cocksure of the Republican nomination for the presidency at Philadelphia last week, made very little pre-convention effort to win delegates; he relied too strongly on the "powers" that be—at this writing, "the powers that were." Joe Hepcat said long before Mr. Willkie came on the scene, that the Republicans were planning to crucify Dr. Dewey. They succeeded in their efforts but could not save their own necks and were in turn slaughtered by Mr. Willkie, whose only visible backing was the rank and file of the Republicans.

WE ALL are familiar with the history of this remarkable convention after the second ballot a recess was called, such recesses during balloting generally are for the purpose of stopping somebody; it did stop somebody but the wrong somebody. Mrs. Robt. Taft stopped Mr. Dewey and Mr. Dewey's woman manager stopped Mr. Taft, each by refusing second place for their candidates. These two women unintentionally rendered a laudable service to their country by making it possible for this country to present a solid front to foreign powers, regardless who wins the election.

A NEW HAMPSHIRE senator some years ago labelled Senator McNary, the Republican vice presidential nominee, and his western colleagues, "Sons of Wild Jackasses." Mr. Willkie is credited with plenty of horse sense, but the an' nity arginate, it is safe to say that he believes in horse power—thus we have a horse and mule team heading the Republican ticket.

TO MY mind the most outstanding incident of the Republican convention went unnoticed by writers and commentators, intentionally or otherwise. When Mr. Hoover during his speech before the convention virtually told the president that he should not insult Hitler, the crowd stopped his speech and cheered, as it did no other time during his speech, so long, in fact, until cold chills ran down my spine, when I thought of the prostrate condition this country would be left in should a presidential campaign be conducted along these lines. We want peace, a whole peace, not a piece "of a peace."

"WHAT DO YOU think of Willkie?" I asked a life-long Republican—(one who said if he lived he will vote the Republican ticket this fall). "Well, this old-timer said: 'I do not know anything about him, but what I have read of him, he is something more which is equally vital. We need more inter-racial good will and unity among the different peoples who make up our country's citizenship. We need more justice and recognition for loyal minority groups, especially the sixteen million loyal Negroes of this nation. We need this to bolster up national patriotism and to immune underprivileged groups against the overtures and sophistry of subtle enemy representatives who seek to divide and ruin the nation, by stirring up hatred and intolerance of group against group.

In a radio talk from Washington, D. C., last Sunday night, J. Franklin, a well-known commentator, reminded the public that a very large percentage of the population of the Western Hemisphere is made up of the darker races, especially countries South of the Rio Grande. He also said in substance that it would be well for this nation to indulge in a little less Jim Crowism and suggested that Southern statesmen be less vigorous in the future in filibustering against proposed legislation in interest of unprotected American citizens.

We share Mr. Franklin's opinion in the matter and it is our earnest hope that our nation, will make generous provision for Negro participation in our great national defense program. In this crisis, Jim Crowism should be eliminated.

all right, but between me and you, third term or 33rd term, nobody is going to beat Roosevelt, why that man is a miracle, and his wife—she—she's an angel with out wings, and the airplane gives her those. The good that man is doing is worth 40 billions. Instead to the 4 billion he has spent for the good of humanity."

WITHIN THE next few days we will know the standard-bearers of the Democratic party—it appears now that it will be Roosevelt or McNutt, but you can never tell what this man Roosevelt will do, when you think you have arrived at a point ahead of him, he has been there, left his astounding message and gone—so maybe it will not be Roosevelt and McNutt or Willkie and Hull or Farley and Jackson. Whether the Democratic nomination is of little consequence, for the main Rooseveltian theory of government will dominate both parties. "It is a matter of common knowledge that Roosevelt has followed rather than lead the people," so said one of the large daily papers. Then this talk, by such same paper, about Roosevelt being a dictator, or wanting to be one, must have been untruthful propaganda.

ELWOOD, IND., northeast of Indianapolis, about 40 miles on road No. 13, through Noblesville, a thriving agricultural and manufacturing town of 10,685 population, the former home of James J. Davis, once a United States senator from Pennsylvania, a city noted for its tomatoes, so it may be fitting and proper that this city should indirectly give us "Puddler Jim" as a senator, give us "Rebel Wendell" as a president. Elwood is on the same road a few miles south of Wabash, the first town in Indiana to use electricity for street lighting, thus it is no strange that this neighborhood prejudiced such a master of electric current as Mr. Willkie. I feel sure when Willkie makes his acceptance speech, the good citizens of Elwood will not object to your attendance.

SINCE the people of Europe and Africa seem so determined to make the war bigger and better according to their way of thinking, news of bomb-dropping, battleship sinking and little naval to the American reading public. Russia did add a little interest by dropping a few tanks on Rumania, Japan has been ultimatum so long until it is refreshing to hear "My Old Kentucky Home," so we will skip the war for a while, until enough of these foolish men ask themselves "What are we fighting for"—and realize that when the German Eagle ceases to fly, the Russian Bear no longer growls, the British Lion quits its roar, the cry of their people will be the age-old cry, "We want more."

GO EASY

The LIGHTS were dim
 The MUSIC was sweet
 Most everyone were
 Moving their feet.

(Then there was a change)

They were sliding and gliding
 Dipping and hesitating
 To a tempo of music
 That was pure exasperating.

When the music stopped
 They were huffing and puffing
 And to my surprise
 They actually weren't bluffing.

I wonder weren't they
 Making, too much physical effort:
 I can't go on
 One said to her escort.

I like music that's MUSIC
 And not just notes
 Hammering and stammering
 Doesn't make the tones float.

Give me the music
 That makes one forget
 Entrances your whole being
 Captivating and yet

It isn't old-fashioned
 And it isn't too new
 Something you don't tire
 Easily, and it isn't askew.

I never could enjoy
 A hustle and bustle
 Give me something calm
 For I don't like to tussle.

MYSELF

I'm only a child as you might say,
 Just passing along life's highway.
 Doing my deeds both big and small
 And trying so hard that I won't fall.

My troubles have come, but not to stay,
 For tomorrow I know is a lovely day,
 Rains and storms will soon pass by
 And the Peaceful Night, shall drift nigh.

So, even though I am a child
 Just stop and think, one little while
 I, too have ups and downs, some high and low,
 But still passing through life's highway—I go.

CONFUSED

Whom do you think
 Came in yesterday
 As I sat down to the
 Organ, and began to play?
 I hadn't seen them
 For so long
 I thought my eyesight
 Was all wrong.

There was a faint outline
 Of a familiar face
 As I tried to remember
 Where? and what place—
 Hadn't I seen that whole
 Before I had time to speak
 They stroiled out the door.

The same handsome large frame
 Tall and very striking,
 Selfish? yes,
 Dignified and outrageous
 I may be sensitive,
 I may love flowers and ART,
 I may possess humor—but—
 I won't indulge
 In breaking hearts
 Although some has a tendency
 To think it's SMALL.

LOST ECSTASY

Roberta V. McPherson

I never dreamed that my life would be
 Mad moments of hectic desire,
 If someone had said this would have happened to me
 I would have called them a liar.
 But now since I have found you
 dear

I learned but far too late,
 What life could be with you so near
 And yet I have to wait.

I have to wait to call you mine,
 For there's someone else who holds claim.
 We have to steal each moment
 divine

And it's I whose the blame.
 I made you believe I cared for you
 When from me you wanted no part.

You loved me because I made no
 part.
 You loved because I made a dare
 And that dare has broken my heart.

'Tis madness, it's funny but oh so true;
 If only I could recall the day
 When I told you 'twas all untrue
 That I could never feel this way.
 Though the memory of you shall always remain

Will you try to remember too,
 That you made me lose what I tried to gain—
 Your desire, your love and you.

SMOKE, SOOT AND A STAIN

Smoke, soot and stain
 I wished never, oh, never
 These to see again,

Nor locks in shut doors,
 Nor rugs for tender feet
 On should-be earthen floors,

Oh, I need no more to see
 Men that fleeting go
 Nor smoke nor soot, that foully
 blow;

I do not mind rain falling
 Nor numbing winds
 Nor hoot owls calling;

These that on silent wing roam
 Are friends and sharers of
 My tropic home;

Smoke, soot and stain
 I wished never, oh, never
 These to see again.

MOM

(By Willis B. Keller for ANP)

Within my cherished hopes I found her there,
 So gently swaying in her easy chair.

Her checkered lap was filled with spoons of yarn,
 While hands pressed needles skillfully on to darn.

Her face was faunt and rough with years to blame,
 But softer was her pliant heart
 aflame.

A beam spread through her eyes
 into the room,
 No longer did her lips spell out
 the gloom.

I crushed her silv'ry head against my chest,
 And felt the mournful throbbing
 in her breast.

Then tears, like shining pearls,
 began to bow,
 We love each other dearly . . .
 this, we know.

Everything is here comedy, tragedy, love; excitement, fighting, heroism, and sacrifice. There is a crisp, salty Welsh humor which seasons the tale and makes it proof against sentimentality. Blended in "An Old Captivity" are two different elements: the sort of realistic adventure that you find in a book by Admiral Byrd; the romantic mysticism of James Hilton's "Lost Horizon."

ON BIRDS

Oh I stood silently
 Watching birds winging.
 Winging all day long:
 Their noises like
 Tinkle bells ringing
 A pretty but lonely song.

And now the last
 Has gone its way.
 There is left but the sparrow
 To warble his wintry lay

Oh I was silent
 Watching birds roam.
 In peaceful content
 Watching them wing
 Toward their southern home;

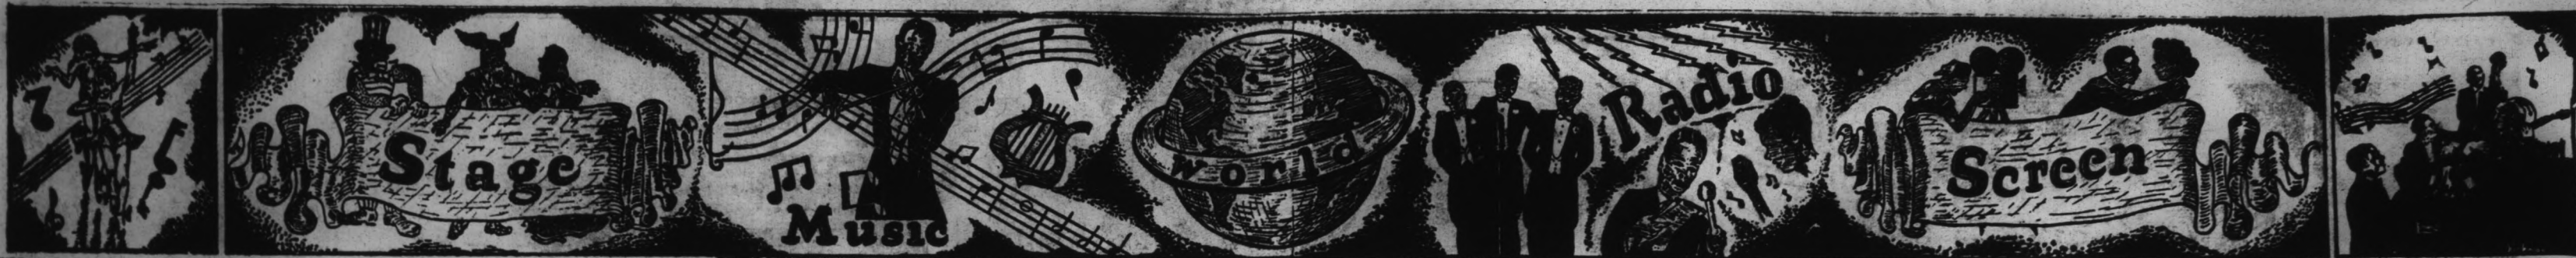

Oh I stood silently
 Watching the last ray
 Of sun upon them fall:
 No more this year will they
 Bequeath to us
 Their throated call.

THE LORD'S PRAYER
 Roberta V. McPherson

The Lord's prayer is a true model of prayer.
 It lays down the line on which we should frame our ways,
 It gives us a way to tell God our cares
 And our troubles day by day;
 It removes the distance of our approach to Him
 It counteracts the selfishness of our desires,
 It enlarges our horizon so as to comprehend
 The welfare of this world of ours

It is the Ten Commandments turned into prayer,
 The commandments to keep God's law,
 Being converted into prayers to enable us
 To hear and understand His call.
 It is for His glory we worship
 And carry on
 Therefore He shall surely hear;
 He'll forgive us or every sin
 And wipe away each tear.

'Adventure in Diamonds' At the Park Sunday

High intrigue, in the form of an attempt to loot the fabulous Kimberley diamond mines, and high comedy, in the form of a young airman's infatuation for a lovely lady crook, are the poles about which Paramount's new film drama, "Adventure in Diamonds," revolves. Starring George Brent and Isa Miranda, it's scheduled to open locally next Sunday at the Park Theatre.

The first picture to bring together these two popular stars is a novelty in many ways. For one thing, although it's a melodrama about a vicious international crime ring, its dialogue, situations and flavor mark it definitely as comedy. Secondly, although the dramatic personae is fairly crammed with law-breakers, there is not one really unattractive personality among the chief conspirators. And in its setting "Adventure in Diamonds" is most extraordinary of all, taking place in the South African diamond mining region and its metropolis, Cape Town, a locale seldom pictured on the screen.

PLAYERS IN JOHN KIRBY'S BAND ON CBS "HAVE THEIR NAMES IN BOOKS" They've got their names in books.

That's what John Kirby proudly says about the men who help him make music on his "Flow Gently Sweet Rhythm" program over Columbia networks Sunday. (WABC-CBS, 5:30 to 6:00 P. M. EDT).

Books on jazz, Mr. Kirby means, and no wonder, since each is a "top man" in his class. Together they comprise what has been called the biggest little band in the country.

With Kirby at the bass fiddle, here's the line-up: O'Neil Spencer, who beats the drums; Buster Bailey, at the clarinet; Charlie Shavers, trumpet; Russell Procope, saxophone, and Billy Kyle, who does amazing tricks on the piano.

"Northwest Passage" At Indiana Sunday

Spencer Tracy now is among that handful of screen actors who hold records for delivering long, uninterrupted speeches during a motion picture scene. However, his record was not made under perfect conditions in a modern sound stage, but in an Idaho mountain meadow under a broiling sun that made thermometers read well over 100 degrees even in the shade. It was recorded for "Northwest Passage," the Technicolor filmation of Kenneth Roberts' best-seller, which opens Sunday at the Hill's Indiana Theatre.

Tracy's scene, a speech of encouragement to his sixty worn Rogers' Rangers, ran three minutes and thirty-five seconds without a break. The first time he did the scene he received the heart-breaking news that the film had run short in the Technicolor camera before he had finished. With a rest, he did the scene again as soon as cameras were reloaded. In the scene with the star were Robert Young and Walter Brennan, other leading characters in the picture directed by King Vidor.

Hill's Indiana

MEMBER OF BOARD SAYS THAT RACE MAN WAS RECOMMENDED

Editors Note: The following article is a reprint from a letter which appeared in Friday's Times in answer to another letter sent in by Clarence Brown, newspaper writer and music teacher. Because of its contents, dealing upon a subject so vital to Negroes in Indianapolis, it is herewith presented in toto.

DENIES DISCRIMINATION IN WPA MUSIC PROJECT

By Thomas Poggiani
Having read the various letters appearing in the daily newspapers charging discrimination by the WPA Music Project against Negro musicians, I feel it to be only fair that a clearer and more detailed picture of the actual situation be given the public.
Mr. Brown states that the Audition Committee was created for the purpose of disqualifying the Negro musician. When I was asked to be a member of this committee, it was with the understanding that such procedure was required of the project, which understanding was verified by subsequent reading of the general operating procedures of the Music Project, which originated in Washington.

ERSKINE HAWKINS TO GUEST STAR ON COAST-TO-COAST PROGRAM

cause she resented the unsavory advances he made toward her in the sanctity of his brother's home. . . . Reverend Charles Henry Bell, the champion of Negro Baptist preachers here, and J. Saint Clair Gibson, editor of this column say that human beings in general lose too much motion. They both said this to me on the same day and in almost the same words yet each was in a different part of the city. This incident is another star for those optimists who believe in mental telegraphy, and the theory that great minds run together. . . . Olton Offutt, the excise policeman, is the Nick Charles of Indiana. Although he has made scores of arrests he never uses profanity or third degree methods in doing so. Offutt is a hard worker, and resorts to all kinds of tricks to get his man. Sometimes he is a hunter, fisherman, and dude. One time he went to a wild party as a saxophone player and took part in the band then raided the place with the aid of other officers and got a large quantity of illegal liquor. Offutt has been on the force about three years, and during that time has masqueraded as many types of men but he always reverts back into a policeman. . . .

The Hawk opens a ten-week engagement at Harlem's famous Savoy ballroom July 4, under the hooking of Moe Gale. During his stay his band will broadcast three times weekly via the coast to coast National Broadcasting Company networks. Latest reports have the Hawk's Bluebird recording of "Body and Soul" nearing the 100,000 mark in sales and still going strong.

SECOS POINT FOR SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Goldsmith Pipe and Supply Co., who for the past five years have been sponsoring athletic teams here in the city, have again gone into the field by backing a colored Softball team known as the Goldsmith's Colored Secos, who are composed of last year's Douglas Theatre team who won the city championship last year, and also the Indiana Ave. Market team, who two years ago won the city championship. Both above teams have combined into one team and have only lost one game this season and that to the Pepsi-Cola Boosters, local team, playing in the Bush-Fezle State League.

Among the better teams the Colored Secos have defeated are as follows:
Stewart-Warner Corp., Kinsan A. A., Holcomb Pontiacs of this city, and Civic All-Stars of Muncie, Ind., last year's Muncie City champs, and the Graham Motors team of Bloomington, Indiana, who met with defeat against the Secos in their only loss of the season.

JOE LOUIS, LONESOME MAN IN TOWN.

NEW YORK, July 5.—GAINING HIS DECISIVE VICTORY over Arturo Godoy, lion-hearted South American, Joe Louis proved himself the "Alexander" of the prize-ring. Like the ancient conquering war lord, Louis has run out of suitable opponents and must engage men he has already battered into submission, or RETIRE UNDEFEATED. Sullivan, Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Jeffries, Burns, Johnson, Dempsey, Tunney, Sharkey, Braddock, and the other unnamed champs of the heavyweight division seldom ran out of opponents. This Detroit youth lets them puzzle him the first time... at least some experts claim this... only to sink them like the rest of the bruisers... able to demonstrate only in terms of "brawn" and slow-thinking as a contented cow otherwise. We set forth the claim that he's smart. Smart enough to know just what... JOHN Q. PUBLIC expects of him, and that goes for black and white America alike. Smart enough to understand that fellows like BILL STERN and others of that ilk, might get him to say something (in an unguarded moment) that might... BOOMERANG HIS POPULARITY TO HADES AND BACK. Clever enough... to incorporate that old axiom... "A few well chosen words are more precious than diamonds." Let us discontinue all this worry about JOE LOUIS, being capable of taking care of himself. IN OR OUT OF THE RING! Mrs. Barrow's son, Josephus, is longer on mother-wit than most Phi Beta Kappa recipients are on that subject and all around brilliance that earned their award. At the moment, we'd style him the "Lonesome Boxer in the Game." He refuses to take our advice given on many occasions to retire undefeated. Joe prefers to fight on until some man hops along capable of defeating him, and then make him to do it all over again in a return joust. Of course... this is the one statement of Louis' that tears down our theory about him being able to take care of himself in every sense of the word. Louis should not keep on fighting until he is forced to take a brutal licking, even another like the first Max Schmeling blood-bath. He has money, love of his neighbors, relations who worship him, pals and friends like Black, Roxborough, Blackburn, Mel Frasier, et al. Polish off the winner of VALENTINO-BABER, take a winter match in Detroit against the best young scrapper alive, and then... OFFER YOUR GLOVES TO THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTE, they'll be happy to accept them, Josephus.

RAILPLAYERS SHOULD HAVE AN INCENTIVE.

SENSATIONAL NEGRO BALL-PLAYERS work on a six to ten months basis for less than... $200 a month. Many of our lads capable at shining in such outfits as INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE, EASTERN LEAGUE, AMERICAN ASSOCIATION, etc., receive just about half of that sum. It's seldom we hear of an estimated salary draw like JOSH GIBSON'S whom it is reported, drew (in Mexico) while he worked $700 monthly (we wonder). As we sat in Yankee stadium recently, listening to complaints on the part of the fans such as 'RUN OUT THAT KNOCK "SLIDE, YER DARN FOOL"... "GET AFTER THAT FOUL IN THE STANDS. BILL DICKEY WOULD" and other like remarks: It inspired this piece. Negro baseball players, like most other performers in all walks of life, are sadly underpaid and unjustly criticized in many instances. They're not supposed to sulk, fly in a tantrum, or la Durocher, Ducky Medwick, et al. Neither are they EVER SUPPOSED TO LOAF FOR A SPLIT SECOND. Did you ever think, fans, that sometimes while LOAFING (as you call it), these men are wondering about their salaries? How can they stretch it out to meet rent, food and clothing for the good wife and children, charity (don't make me laugh) donations, lodge dues, hospitalization, and... God knows what. Through it all I'd say, under unthinkable circumstances and handicaps, they still go out there 20 per cent of the time and play a brand of baseball... DARN FEW BIG LEAGUERS COULD DO UNDER SIMILAR HANDICAPS AN INEQUALITY. Let's have round table talks with the magnates, players, and ourselves in the matter of patronage and salaries. Give our lads something to live and hope for before baseball among American Negroes, becomes as passe as the dodo bird. We were a trail blazer in the sense of blazing a path for our boys getting in the big leagues and all other angles other writers will snatch on as... time rolls along. If we hammer away long enough at rock-erosion will take place, and such must be our endless fight, here.

T. A.—Mr. Wallace I am just like a new-born babe. Don't know what to do. I have two friends. When I stay with one for a while I want the other. Then I go to him and I start wanting the first one. Tell me what is the right thing to do?

Ans.—The first thing you must do is to stop going from one to the other. . . . this is common. . . . One of these fellows is married, give him up. The other cares for you, but if you don't return his love don't stay with him either. You should get married and stop this foolishness.

R. J.—It seems just because of one mistake that all the rest of my life will have to be spent in atonement and repentance. Tell me please, if I have any right to future happiness?

Ans.—Everyone has a right to future happiness. You certainly have paid dearly for the wrong that you committed, although there is no doubt but what it will be a stumbling block for quite some time. Don't allow this mistake to on your mind. . . . be big enough to forget it and show your friends that you can live a clean decent life.

N. B. C.—There was some lice brought in to my house and I want to know if the one I suspect is the person who brought them here?

Ans.—No sir. She didn't have anything to do with it. . . . when she found them there it upset her so much that she did try to get rid of them. It is my impression that YOU know more about this matter than anyone else. Be more careful in the future.

O. F. P.—We were married in 1938 and have one child. He hasn't ever done anything for her yet. Will he ever? I am hoping that he will be among the first to be drafted if we go in war and hope that he has to go to the front as he has no obligations and only dodges responsibility.

Ans.—Your husband doesn't realize the expense attached to bringing up a child . . . he hasn't ever been made to realize his responsibility and now he won't. Give him up, try to become interested in some other good man who will make a father to your child. Another woman has him hooked. Worrying about the war won't help any. . . . try to forget that your husband is so irresponsible.

B. M. W.—I am very anxious to go to New York or Chicago late this summer and would like your advice?

Ans.—Stay right at home and get a job. You are too young to go so far away when you aren't even prepared to work. I am inclined to think that you will get a job here locally and you can save your money and go away next year.

W. D. J.—This man I got has been drunk for some time now. His mother came and brought six eggs Monday and I want to know what to do with these eggs?

Ans.—Cook them for your man. There isn't anything wrong with the eggs, but if you prefer not to eat them, then it is quite alright. You had better get this man of yours sobered up, for he can't possibly go on much longer in the condition he is in right now.

M. S. J.—Can you sue a person for slander? This is my case. I was made to marry a girl some years ago and the child came, and it isn't mine. I divorced her. Now she has another child and she claims it is mine and I haven't even spoken to her in three years. Could I sue her?

Ans.—It wouldn't do you any good. . . . only make matters more embarrassing. Everyone who knows you are aware of the fact that the child isn't yours. . . . don't let it worry you any more. This girl is only doing this to irritate you. . . . if you blow up and cause her trouble, it will do her a world of good. Calm yourself and forget it.
